Claims 1-7 and 9-10 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising, for example, O-heterocyclic derivatives classified in 549/200+, S-heterocyclic derivatives classified in 549/1+, polycyclic thiomorpholine derivatives classified in 544/60+, polycyclic morpholine derivatives classified in 544/101+, diazine derivatives classified in 544/224+, thiodiazine derivatives classified in 544/8+, benzothiazine classified in 544/49+, isoquinoline derivatives classified in 546/139+, tropane derivatives classified in 546/124+, oxazole derivatives classified in 548/240+, thiodiazole derivatives classified in 548/125+, 568/38+, 568/630+, and various other species too numerous to recite. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: the compounds differ materially in structure and element so much so as to be patentably distinct. In addition, a reference, which anticipates one group, may not even render obvious the other. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Upon election, the Examiner will review the claims and indicate (a) a generic concept inclusive of the elected species {compounds which are so similar thereto as to be part of the elected matter} and (b) by such indication (i.e. by exclusion) which compounds are drawn to non-elected subject matter.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action.

Claims 1-5 and 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make the invention.

The specification does not give any guidance as to how each of the heterocyclyl substituted X and/or Y containing derivatives were prepared. In In re Wands, 8 USPQ2d 1400 (1988), factors to be considered in determining whether a disclosure meets the enablement requirement of 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph, have been described. They are:

1. The nature of the invention,
2. The state of the prior art,
3. The predictability or lack thereof in the art,
4. The amount of direction or guidance present,
5. The presence or absence of working examples,
6. The breadth of the claims,
7. The quantity of experimentation needed, and

8. The level of the skill in the art. In the instant case, Applicants are claiming heterocyclic substituted amine derivatives. Applicants have not disclosed any working examples, which would demonstrate, or guide, one skilled in the art as to how the heterocyclic substituted derivatives other than pyridine, imidazole, benzimidazole, pyrimidine and purine, derivatives, were prepared or obtained. The process of making the heterocyclic substituted derivatives or how the heterocyclic substituted derivatives were obtained is not readily apparent from the specification. The specification must teach how to make the invention. In re Gardner, 166 U.S.P.Q. 138 (1970). In order to practice the claimed invention, one skilled in the art would have speculate how the derivatives were obtained or prepared.

Therefore, the instant invention is not enabled.

Claims limiting the scope of these terms should overcome this rejection.
